Qualifications: I've spent the last 15 years successfully leading complex projects in the industrial control system and rail transportation spaces with multi-million-dollar budgets, demonstrating a strong focus on financial responsibility and resource allocation. My skills include meticulous scope and contract reviews, risk management, robust systems engineering, and "big picture" thinking. I have a proven record of delivering work on time and within budget. Additionally, I possess strong leadership skills, having effectively guided teams through complex challenges to deliver innovative solutions that directly address and exceed client needs. My ability to navigate intricate projects, whether short (weeks or months) or lengthy (numerous years) coupled with my commitment to customer satisfaction, strategic thinking, and outcome-driven approaches to problems, make me qualified to serve on the Board of Directors.
